Location:-

On south side of road about 150 metres west of Clyne Chapel

History:-

Formerly part of the Clyne Castle Estate, which was developed from 1790's onwards. Brynau probably dates from the early 19th Century. The house was used by the agents of the Vivians in the early 20th Century, when the interior was modernised.

Exterior:-

House. One storey plus attic. Brown stone front, pebble dashed rear and sides; plain tiled roofs, brick chimneys; casement glazing. Front faces garden (East). Central block of 3 gabled bays, each advanced; at attic level, casement window to each gable, central window with label. On ground floor, orgee-headed doorway to open porch with benches to sides, gothic entrance doorway; outer bays with casement windows with labels. To left, advanced block with large splayed bay windows, to right, block stepped down with single casement window, and further similar block, stepped down, with casement window. Outshuts and additions to pebble-dashed rear.

Listed:-

Early 19th Century house, associated with Clyne Estate, retaining much overall form and character.
