Notes:-

Location:-

Situated on the west side of the farmyard just east of the A483 some 1.7 kilometres south of junction 47 on M4 motorway.

History:-

Early to mid 19th century outbuilding, one of three around the farm courtyard at Bryn-rhos, a Penllergaer estate farm. All originally were whitewashed and had hipped roofs, replaced with gabled roofs in late 19th century probably. This range had stable to left and barn to right.

Exterior:-

Outbuilding, rubble stone with 20th century tin-steel roof, stable to left has door between two windows, barn to right has broad opening between two vent loops. Openings all have cambered heads with stone voussoirs. Stable windows have been blocked in 20th century. South end wall had blocked unusual dovecote with round opening in centre within a ring of raised stone, and six blocked small openings with shelf below positioned around in hexagon. End gables are added, difference in stonework. Rear has blocked cart entry to barn to left with vent loop each side. Corrugated iron lean-to to right.

Interior:-

Interior not available for inspection.

Listed:-

Included as part of a little altered 19th century estate farm group, a very rare survival in the region.
